

WAKE UP!

The Lord is Returning

5th edition.

So many people responded positively to the Purim 2005 4th edition of Wake Up, urging me to write a sequel, or a 5th edition, that in the light of further prophecy and greater discernment of earlier signs given to me, I became convinced to do so. I had written 150,000 words in the 4th edition whilst this 5th edition contains 202,000 words. I am particularly anxious to publish this edition before World War III commences and before Israel is invaded yet again by the surrounding nations, because anyone can prophesy an event after it has taken place!

One of the readers of my book, Mr John Frew of Hampshire, an author and a 'born again' Christian student of the Bible for more than 25-years and a leader of a study group for 8-years on the fulfilment of prophecy and the 'end-times', wrote the following to me:

I have just re-read Wake Up! The Lord is Returning for the third time It is on my reference library shelf for I dip into it periodically in between readings. My book-cases are crammed full of scholarly books by a variety of authors and theologians, but I consider your writings the finest and most easily understood of them all. You really have done a marvellous work in 'unpackaging' the Bible in a most remarkable way.

Very flattering and undeserved for I only act as secretary to the Lord Jesus as did John in writing the Book of Revelation. I put on a prophet's hat through reading what others have written and through revelation, interpretation and expectation. An Anglican theologian with an internationally recognised ministry wrote to say that he had read right through Wake Up! (I assume at the expense of laying aside other pressing articles) and as a pre-millennialist agreed privately with much I had written, but for doctrinal reasons would not admit to agreeing with all the conclusions I had arrived at. John Robins has reviewed most editions of Wake Up! Below is a compilation of his reviews:

Bearing in mind the fact that Alf Droy foresaw the events of September 11th of which he writes in Wake Up! The Lord is Returning: (second edition), e.g. 'A major attack on American soil was being plotted by a group of Islamic extremists... Mayhem and devastation could result if a cold-hearted fanatical pilot chose to use any aeroplane as a missile against a significant target'). Three other of his prophecies have been fulfilled and nine are still awaiting fulfilment. The expanded second edition allows readers to weigh Alf's words against actual events. Readers may disagree with some of Alf's conclusions but this is not a book to be ignored. (Alf Droy's autobiography 'The Lord is My Shepherd' is quite remarkable too, dramatic, challenging, illuminating, encouraging).

There are three main strands in 'Wake Up! The Lord is Returning' (fourth edition) which are all fascinating: Alf Droy's careful and detailed interpretation of Scripture with its relation to world history; his visions, words of knowledge and prophecies (reminiscent in some ways of Clifford Hill's call to the prophetic ministry); his beliefs about events to come, some of which have already happened. Jeremiah had to wait a long, frustrating time before he was taken seriously. Alf has experienced the same, and he knows he has to be faithful to his commission. As always, Alf's book is full of fascinating facts, dates and figures and careful deductions. He is never afraid to alter his conclusions in the light of further study and revelation. Regularly many of his predictions come true, if not always at the proposed date. There's another batch due before Easter 2005. Although the reader will tend to go for the future prophecies, there is much of value in the rest of the book, as Alf takes us through the Bible right from Creation, and fills in some intriguing gaps. He often pauses, usually in long footnotes, to make social comment with which the reader will go along wholeheartedly. Alf also charts his own walk of faith, reasoning, and study.

As I read Wake Up! The Lord is Returning (fifth edition) I am aware of more of Alf's prophecies coming true or about to do so. The prophecies are provoked sometimes by visions and words of knowledge (Alf tells you which), by Alf's interpretation of Biblical time codes or by his acute readings of current social trends and their likely consequences. One thing is certain, never was there a time in our lives so urgent to get our priorities right, both individually and collectively as Christians or as human beings-before the Lord comes to take us (or reject us!). An increasingly frightening time, but under-girded by God's unfailing promises and strength-a very present help in times of trouble. This is not a time to keep our heads down and hope we will be all right because we have been 'nice people'. We have to catch Alf's (or the Holy Spirit's) passion to share what we know, while there is still time and opportunity. This book, read or re-read will do the reader good, if approached in the right mood, not quibbling over details. I commend this very interesting and fascinating book to you! It is definitely worth a(nother) read.
