Alpine Ski Course Leader Course

Morzine/Avoriaz Easter 2006

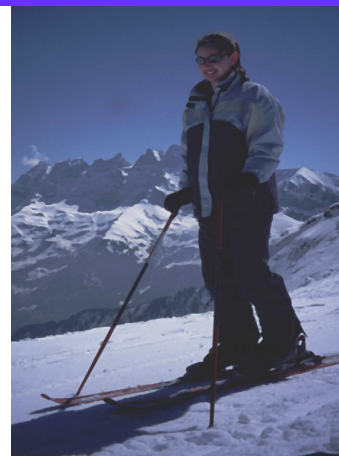

A course for Teachers, Youth Leaders and other taking young people on ski courses

Supported By

Of Anglesey

Sunday 9th April to Sunday 16th April 2006

This course is open to all teachers, youth leaders and others leading groups of young people on ski courses. It is designed to offer training and assessment in the skills required to conduct their pupils or young charges safely around the mountain when they are not in lessons.

A strong emphasis is placed on current good practice within the context of national guidelines laid down for educational visits.

The assessment is validated by both Snowsport Wales and Snowsport England, (the National Governing Bodies of the sport), giving it a broad currency across the UK.

Course fees include all coaching and assessment fees; course materials, excellent accommodation in a fully catered chalet in Morzine and airport transfers between Geneva and Morzine if required.

Sunday 9th April 2006 is arrivals day and the course runs from Monday to Saturday inclusive. Departure day is the following Sunday but course members may depart late Saturday if they wish.

Highlights of the Course

- Development of the candidates personal skiing on all terrain and in varying conditions
- On Piste leadership skills including group management, choosing a safe line down the mountain, ongoing risk assessment etc.
- Navigation, (in all weathers—conditions permitting)
